

The Incredible Mystery of the Ninjas

Mystery Incorporated met a ninja fighting squad, a few days ago. They saw them yesterday at the beach. There was an evil fighting group called "Zoom Z". They looked just like Japanese Ninjas, but they looked evil because they wore beards. They were bullying people, all over the San Francisco beach, this fall.

Fred said, "Hey! What are you doing?" But the bearded Zoom Z were wearing masks to look like good ninjas. Fred told the gang the plan, "Everyday they eat at Home Town Buffet. When they enter the restaurant, they will step in a big rope net and we will trap them".

It was time for lunch. When the Zoom Z squad stepped up to pay, there was a big rope net that pulled them to the ceiling. "Whoosh", a big rope trapped them. Fred found out they were the bad Ninjas because he pulled off their masks. They were trying to take over the world. The good Ninjas came and thanked Fred and the Mystery Inc. because they were giving all Ninjas a bad name.
